

Outreach to “El Hongo” Prison, Tecate Mexico

February 23, 2007

Getting ready to leave, our 16 passenger van was full to overflowing

We had 11 people come for this outreach and they started giving the gospel as soon as we got inside

The convicts themselves provided some awesome worship.

Wanting to feed more than their spirit we brought in lunch and convicts volunteered to get it ready to serve.

When it came time to hand of the coats and shoes, it was the administrators at the prison that decided who were most in need. The day we were there it was 38 degrees with a wind chill that made it much more cold than that. We were told it has gotten as cold as 10 degrees below zero. And keep in mind, many not only have no coats, many have no blankets or even mattresses.

For us the most important part of the trip is to bring the message of hope and God blessed in a great way!

After the men had asked Jesus into their lives. This inmate to the left got up and shared how he had never heard of this before and that when he had listened to the pastor something inside him said this was truth. How he had never felt this way before and would always remember this day.

We serve an awesome God !
